WHEN.

This neckwear made first to our liking, then yours, comprises new and novel designs in silks, satins and velvets, in a choice variety of specks, spots, dots, checks, plaids, figures and mixtures, all of which bear the closest possible selling mark.

There are very proper every day business ties costing but a quarter. There are proper Sunday ties for fifty cents. There are wide end string ties in a mixture of hues at a quarter. There are bows at a nickel and a dime, or a nickel without the dime. There are Cadet bows with straps at a quarter, white satin or silk.

Whatever your imagination dictates, we say expect to find it at the When Clothing House, and at a price you can afford to pay.

Heavy with warmth and light with price are overcoats of our people's making; we mean to make the When a comfortable place to buy. It is Suits for big and little men are moving. Steadily moving. It isn't mind that does it. Goodness of materials, strong making and the price asked and taken has much to do with moving suits from the When.

Are you ready for Christmas things? Smoking jackets, silk mufflers or handkerchiefs? Night robes, suspenders, silk umbrellas or fur caps? Fur gloves or kid mittens? or any.

We don't mean you shall say our goods are less desirable for being less in price; not any.

You may come today or next week; we are ready to show you through.

JUDGE GRESHAM'S BOOM.

His Decision Against Jay Gould, in the Wabash Case Induces Henry Clews to Nominate Him for the Presidency.

The Murderer of Emma Peterson Commits
Suicide—A Pennsylvania Tiger Kills
Two Persons—Two More
Knocked off the Track.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—The World says Judge Gresham's decision removing Solomon Humphreys from the receivership of the Wabash railroad was received with acclaim by the members of the large and growing anti-Gould party in Wall street. It was said that Gresham was the first judge to take a decided stand against Jay Gould in the case, and that the millions of railroad stockholders will be the first to hail Gresham as the man for whom quite a boom as a republican presidential candidate was started in 1885. Yesterday the boom was started again. Henry Clews stood in front of a room full of operators yesterday and made a little speech, in which he said: "I predict that Judge Gresham will be the next republican nominee for president. He is a man on whom all factions can unite, and this decision will not hurt him in the least. The management of the Wabash railroad has been shameful, and the Judge's decision strikes at the very root of the evil."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Representative Tyn Bayne, of Pittsburg, who is Blaine's right-hand man in Pennsylvania, and who had charge of certain important matters for the Plumed Knight at Chicago in 1884, said yesterday that President Cleveland is losing his popularity with the people and will probably not receive a re-nomination. As a republican he would rather see Cleveland than Hill get the nomination. As for the republican nomination he thinks that no opposition can prevent Blaine's getting it if he desires it. Colonel Bayne says he does not think there will be any legislation beyond the passage of the appropriation bills this session. He thinks tariff legislation, whatever it is of, will be enacted by the fifth congress. He says it will probably consist of reducing the tax on domestic tobacco and the duty on sugar. This would reduce the revenue of the government about $75,000,000.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—It is generally believed here that diplomatic questions of grave importance will soon arise between the United States and Mexico, growing out of the position taken by President Cleveland against the Mexican revolution. The newspapers of all shades of opinion stand by the government in this matter, on the ground that the principle is sound and approved by some of the most highly civilized nations of the world.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—A saloon-keeper, Louis Werner, at 617 East Sixth street, appeared in police court yesterday as defendant on the charge of having sold liquor on Sunday. The complainant was the police officer who arrested him. Werner, in his evidence, swore that he had for fifteen months been paying $2 per month for police protection while keeping his side door open on Sundays. His predecessor had done the same, and so instructed witnesses when the latter were called to the stand. Money was paid each month to Chester H. Southworth, liquor-seller at Third street and Avenue D. It is alleged there are 300 liquor-dealers in this city, and that the immunity from arrest. Werner gave names and addresses of four. The case was adjourned.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Fully one hundred foreigners were at the Union station yesterday on their return from the west to their former homes in Europe. The majority of them were Germans, though a few were Irishmen. Said one of the "new people" are nearly all from St. Paul, Minn., and other points in Minnesota. Some of us have been in this country two and a half years, but we did not get along well. Two people without capital have been emigrating to the west. The majority of us have barely enough money to get back to the old country, where we will remain.

CONGRESS.

Second Session—Forty-ninth Congress.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—SENATE.—Bill was introduced as follows:
Mr. Hoar—For the erection of a monument to the negro soldiers and sailors who gave their lives to the preservation of the government.

Mr. Ingalls offered a resolution calling on the secretary of the treasury for information as to the number of manufacturers of and wholesale and retail dealers in oleomargarine who have paid special taxes under the law of August 2, 1886, in what districts such taxes were paid, and how many pounds of oleomargarine have been assessed, and in what districts it has been assessed. Adopted.

The senate then proceeded to the consideration of the bill reported by Mr. Blair from the select committee on woman suffrage (February 3, 1886), proposing an amendment to the constitution of the United States, extending the right of suffrage to women, and was addressed by Mr. Blair in support of the bill.

At the close of his speech Mr. Blair gave notice that he would, at an early day, take action on the bill. There were not over a score of ladies in the gallery during its delivery, although notice of it had been given by the press.
